Forecast for Sunday 11 Dec 2022

Weather: Rather cloudy through much of the day with occasional wintry showers during the morning. Gradually becoming drier into the afternoon with cloud breaking from the west to give some clearer spells to end the day. Remaining cold at all levels with valley temperatures only briefly above freezing through the middle of the day.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 20% becoming 60% by late afternoon.

Low cloud and visibility: Widespread cloud above around 400-500m during the morning, lifting slightly and becoming more occasional in the west through the afternoon. Visibilities generally good, quickly becoming poor or very poor in showers with cloud bases also likely to drop in association, and very poor within cloud at height.

Meteorologist's View

Conditions more challenging early with occasional hill fog. Little thawing should be expected through the day even at low levels given the low temperatures with icy ground at all levels possible.
